Narcotic task force arrests 30 within month

force made up of Upland, Ontario and Montclair police detectives today announced it has arrested 30 persons in 30 days and confiscated large quantities of narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Two of the 30 persons arrested by the West End Narcotics Teams (W.E.N.T.) have been arraigned in the West Valley Municipal Court and are awaiting preliminary hearings in robberies of utility companies in Southgate, Los Angeles and Ontario.

The announcement about the arrests and drug and narcotic confiscations at the Ontario Police Department this morning was the first public disclosure of the W.E.N.T. organization.

Directing the new W.E.N.T. teams are Capt. Howard Seay of the Upland Police Department, Capt. James Grundy of the Ontario Police Department and Sgt. Robert Metzger of the Montclair Police Department.

Seay said this morning the W.E.N.T. program idea was conceived by the three police departments to best utilize narcotics officers in each of the cities. Seay said that officers known in one city by narcotic suspects can be used in another city to conduct "buy" programs where they are relatively

'The success of our program is evident," said Seay, "with 30 arrests in 30 days.

The W.E.N.T. task force is comprised of five detectives from the different departments. The teams worked together in infiltrating a number of suspected narcotics rings in the West End area with the assistance of the West End Deputy District Attorney's Office. At least eight search warrants were issued that led to the confiscation of quantities of heroin, cocaine, and mari-

The raids were responsible for the previously announced arrests of Michael John Bodner, 26, of 9066 Elm St., Fontana, and Mickey O. Seay said other arrests are pending. He added that the W.E.N.T. teams will be operating throughout the West End whenever and wherever there is a noted increase in narcotics traffic.

2 boys held in bleacher bomb plot

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) - Two boys with good academic records have been arrested in connection with a time bomb discovered in the crowded bleachers of a graduation commencement at their high school.

Police said the youths, aged 15 and 16, were picked up at their homes Monday and booked for investigation of constructing and planting a destructive device to damage and in-

The pipe bomb was spotted under the stadium stands at Lehigh High School by some graduates shortly after they marched into the football bowl last Wednesday night.

The boys arrested for allegedly planting the bomb have good academic records and one is an Eagle Scout, police said.

'They're very intelligent boys, but they used their intelligence in the wrong way," Sgt. Mike Destro.

He said the boys told officers the bomb was only meant to make a loud noise, as "a practical joke." They said they didn't get a chance to set the timing device, but police said it was dangerous anyway.

Officer Dennis Smith ran the bomb about 40 yards to the stadium goal posts and placed an unmarked patrol car between the bomb and the crowd Bomb squad members deac-

Islanders vote for U.S. status

SAIPAN (AP) — The people of the Northern Marianas Islands voted overwhelmingly today to establish a commonwealth under the United States flag.

With nearly all votes in, the count was 3,024 for and 928 against the proposal. Voter turnout in the plebiscite was about 85 per cent.

Now the U.S. Congress must decide whether to approve the proposal, giving the Pacific island chain a status similar to that of Puerto Rico. It will be the first new U.S. territory acquired since 1925. The Northern Marianas Islands comprise one of five districts of United States Trust Terriroty of the Pacific - islands dotted over an area as large as the United States but with a population half that of Rhode Island.

The other districts are negotiating for a looser relationship with the United States.

Turks demand U.S. open

talks on status of bases ANKARA, Turkey (AP) - Turkey retaliated against the four-month-old American embargo on arms aid with a demand today that the United States begin negotiations within 30 days on the status of American bases

If "action is not taken to initiate the talks," the 20 U.S. military installations in Turkey will be subjected "to a new situation," said a note delivered to the U.S. Embassy. There was no elaboration.

Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil said Turkey "has waited in vain for reversal of the American decision, which is both unjust and wrong in all its aspects.

'It was finally imperative for Turkey to consider retaliatory action as our hopes were upset by a growing anti-Turkish attitude.

Reliable sources reported that Turkey's National Security Council has drawn up a timetable for the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

The council announced Monday night that it had given Premier Suleyman Demirel a package of "proposals containing measures to be implemented against U.S. interests in Turkey.

Demirel and his cabinet discussed the proposals at a fourhour meeting. Government sources said the security council called for the gradual shutdown of the 20 American military bases in the country. Three intelligence-gathering bases and the Incirlik air base for nuclear bombers are considered the most vital to Washington.

The proposal was an apparent attempt to pressure the House of Representatives into approving the removal of the ban on American arms aid to Turkey voted because of the use of American arms in the

Defense contractors target of SEC probe

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Securities and Exchange Commission is investigating the 25 largest defense contractors for possible improper payments at home and abroad.

SEC Chairman Ray Garrett Jr. has ordered the SEC's division of corporation finance to assign a "sufficient number" of staff members to the investigation to assure its swift completion.

The probe was requested by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, who said the possibility exists that bribes, improper campaign contributions and other "irregular" payments have increased the cost to the United States of buying major weapons systems. Proxmire asked the SEC to make a detailed review of records filed by the defense contractors and their subsidiaries to learn if there have been any "unusual payments" or whether any "slush funds" were created for such purposes in the last U.S. government.

The request arose from the controversy surrounding the disclosures that the Northrop Corp. once paid bribes totaling $450,000 for two Saudi Arabian generals in connection with the firm's attempts to sell the Saudi air force its F5 jet fighter. Northrop is the 13th largest

American defense contractor with 1974 Department of Defense contracts valued at $444.8 million. The allegations involving Northrop and certain other firms doing business overseas have been developed by the Senate subcommittee on multinational corporations. One such firm, the Gulf Oil Co..

S.B. Co. awards contract for 2 Prado golf courses

An Anaheim group has received a contract from San Bernardino County to develop and operate two 18-hole "championship" golf courses on 275 acres as part of the Prado Regional Park.

The Prado Golf course, with a limited partnership, proposes to spend $2.9 million for development. The group plans to start construction next month and have the courses open to the public by July 4, 1976, said county Supervisor Robert Town-

In addition to the two courses, the project will include a clubhouse with banquet facilities, pro shop, snack bars and coffee shop.

The operators are also proposing to schedule a professional golf tournament.

The county will receive as pyament five to 12 per cent of the green fees, four per cent income from the bar, plus about $40,000 a year in possessory interest taxes from the improvements

To ensure property development, the group will be required to put the $2.9 million in a trust fund, with withdrawal made jointly by the firm and county, said Townsend. "The county has the right to approve all plans and specifications.

The golf course site is located west of Euclid Avenue and south of Pine Avenue. The land, owned by the U.S. Corp of Engineers, is leased to the Townsend said the lease to the golf course developers is for 39 years, with an option to extend with approval by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

The group, with offices in Anaheim, also operate a golf course at "-Mile Square" near Fountain Valley.

Townsend said he hopes golf course revenues can be used to maintain the Prado Regional Park, which is being developed south of Pine

The park's first phase is expected to receive bids for construction within the next few weeks, said Townsend. This will include a small fishing lake, picnic area and camping facilities. The first project is also scheduled for completion for July 4.

Montclair settles on pay hikes ranging from 71/2-10%

The Montclair City Council Monday formally adopted 1975-76 salary increases for city employes ranging from 71/2 to 10 per cent, agreed to increase fringe benefits and reactivated a controversial educational incentive program for police of-

Separate resolutions were adopted for the Montclair City Employes Association, the Montclair Police Officers Association, certain employes not represented by a formal group and the city administrators.

The council unfroze the requirements were attached to the program, calling for average or better periodic job evaluations. If the office receives a below average evaluation or severe disciplinary action, he is not entitled to reimbursement for attending a college or trade

This program, when frozen in 1974-75, caused controversy between the city administration and police. An impasse was declared when negotiations on the matter fell apart.

During a special hearing before the City Council last year, police officers asserted that this educational incentive plan made officers more professional and qualified. Administrators contended that policemen often misused the program, using it as a stepping stone to other departments and professions at the city's expense.

In addition to this program, the city gave policemen a 71/2 per cent salary increase; assured adequate funds for uniform replacement; agreed to pay increased fringe specific qualifications. Performance benefits costs for retirement, sick leave and workmen's compensation and to purchase required safety equipment for new policemen and replace worn out equipment for current personnel. The total package is nearly 10 per cent.

Employes not represented by a group received salary increases ranging from 71/2 to 10 per cent. The Montclair City Employes Association members got 71/2 per cent salary increases, a floating holiday and safety equipment for maintenance personnel in a nine per cent total

Department heads received a 10 per cent salary increase, but none of the other fringe benefits. The deferred compensation plan implements a program whereby the city will pay up to 2 per cent of the department chairman's annual salary into a special fund. The employe cannot receive these benefits until he

The city also agreed to pay the 25 per cent increase in the health plan for all employes.

The salary adjustments and benefits will be effective July 1.

Brackett Airport expansion approved

Overriding the opposition of the Commission on Environmental Quality, the La Verne City Council Monday night voted to support an expansion of Brackett Airport.

The commission on June 5 reaffirmed their opposition to the airport expansion for two reasons: the expansion would encourage a higher rate of air traffic and there is no assurance that aircraft will not eventually fly over La Verne in their landing patterns as they now do.

The council asked Fred Taplin, Chief, Aviation Division, Department of County Engineer, about the problem of flying over La Verne. Councilman Daniel Lopez noted that residents of the south part of the city complained of poor television reception due to aircraft. Taplin was unwilling to give the council written assurance that landing patterns would not be over La Verne, but he verbally assured the council that present plans are for both take-off and landing patterns away from the city.

Before the unanimous vote in support of the expansion, Mayor Mike M. Morales told the council. Business looks for nearby airports, railroads and freeways.

In response to a question from Councilman Harrison P. Sanborn, Taplan told the council that the city received $18,142 in revenue, directly from the airport last year.

Space colonies

Scientists mull planetoids for pioneer families

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) -Proposals by leading Americanspace biologists meeting here read like pages out of a science fiction

Some 25 scientists are considering the feasibility of proposals for space exploration and human habitation, including theories on how to create a lifesustaining atmosphere on Mars in the next 20 to 30 years and plans to build huge orbiting planetoids - with pioneering families living in them from minerals on the moon.

"These are real ideas - maybe far out ones - that these scientists are seriously considering," said Larry King, a spokesman for the Ames Research Center where the scientists are meeting.

The scientists are meeting for a 10week workshop, funded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, to explore proposals for creating acceptable living conditions for man in space.

'Many earthbound critics contend that in view of our pressing social needs, another major investment in space technology is unconscionable," said Princeton physicist Gerald K. O'Niell, originator of the plan to build huge, orbiting bubblelike planetoids carrying human colonies." 'It is just those needs that makes colonization so attractive.'

"Dr. O'Niell has designed big cylinders - about 20 miles long and four miles in diameter - inside of which you'd have dirt, rocks, plants and an atmosphere all made from materials mined from the moon and asteroids," King said. "Then these cylinders would be manned and orbit the moon, or wherever." While emphasizing that the studies are at a theoretical stage, Dick Johnson, director of the NASA study for space colonization, stressed that habitation of other planets and creation of orbiting space colonies could be of tremendous benefit - or grief - to mankind.

"We feel that these are the kinds of things men will want someday. Whether they want these things for the right or wrong uses, we can't control, but there is a lot of potential good that might come from them,' he said.

"For instance, some of our scientists believe that these orbiting colonies could be solar power collection stations, relaying the power they accumulate to earth with microwaves.

Can bargain with your attorney now

WASHINGTON (AP) - If you're planning to buy a house, write a will, get a divorce or open a small business, you may save money on legal fees because of a new Supreme Court decision.

The court ruled 8 to 0 on Monday that state and local bar associations may not establish minimum fee schedules that are enforced with the threat of discipline against lawyers who charge less.

'What does this mean for the consumer? Lower prices and more competition," said Alan B. Morrison, the attorney for the Virginia husband and wife who brought the suit challenging the Fairfax County Bar Association's minimum fee sched-

"It means the consumer is going to be able to bargain with the lawyer for what the lawyer charges him," said Deputy Assistant Atty. Gen. Bruce B. Wilson.

The court decision appears to be the final blow ending the legal profession's 179-year-old system of setting the minimum fees that lawyers may charge for their ser-

The system began to crumble after Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Goldfarb took their case to court and the Justice Department filed a similar suit against the Oregon State Bar.

Minimum fee schedules at one time were in effect in 34 states, but the American Bar Association now says the number has dwindled to about 20. The ABA recently backed away from its past support for the system.

At its strongest, the system threatened censure for lawyers who undercut the fee schedule on the theory that to charge less was a violation of professional ethics and would encourage shoddy legal work at cutrate prices. The system was most effective in enforcing minimum rates for the legal work required to buy a house and settle an estate, the occasions when consumers most often need an attorney. Wilson said in an inter-

Most state systems established a probate fee averaging 5 per cent of the estate, he said. The fee for a real estate title search and other settlement costs involved in buying a house was about 1 per cent in Fairfax County, but varied nationally.

Bar associations in northern Virginia abandoned the fee schedules after the Goldfarbs won a lower court decision. Morrison said homebuyers' closing costs have dropped by one-third since then.

The Goldfarbs brought the suit after 20 different lawyers quoted the same charge, $522.50, for a title search on the $54,000 house they planned to buy.

The fee schedule adopted by the Massachsuetts bar in 1972 provides examples of the charges established for other services; uncontested divorce, $300; organizing a corporation, $300; representing a client against a misdemeanor charge, $100; defending a client charged with a felony, $1,000; filing a suit for damages from an auto accident, onethird of the amount awarded.

The schedule also set a $35 fee for writing a will. "Most people can write a simple will in half an hour. They all read the same," Wilson observed.

Wilson, who has played a major role in the antitrust division's campaign against professional fee-fixing, conceded that attorneys may not automatically cut prices simply because the court ruled that the minimums can't be enforced.

"But it will erode," he insisted. And if the Justice Department finds that bar groups "maintain fee schedules for any length of time, they can expect to be sued," he said

An ABA pool, taken a year ago, indicated that minimum fee schedules were enforced in these states: Alabama, Colorado, Delaware, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

However, officials in Maine, Colorado, Rhode Island, Louisiana and Oklahoma said then they they were considering abolishing the

A bar association decision to drop the fee schedule does not mean automatically lower legal fees, as one Washington resident found when he was called upon to settle his late grand-mother's estate in Pittsburgh where the fee schedule had been abandoned.

He was quoted a fee of 5 per cent of the estate, the identical rate prescribed in the fee schedule.

Sadat lauds Ford, urges dealings with guerrillas

President Anwar Sadat praised President Ford today and urged the Palestine guerrilla movement to form a provisional government so the U.S. government could deal with

The Egyptian president, who met Ford two weeks ago in Salzburg, Austria, said in an interview with the Beirut newspaper An Nahar:

"We were told on several occasions that the United States could not possibly hold contacts with a revolutionry movement as a matter of principle. But Washington could initiate contacts with a provisional government.'

In Damascus, a Palestine Liberation Organization spokesman said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was "stupid" not to recognize the PLO as the representative of the Palestinian people.

clever. We consider him much too stupid." said Abdul Mohsen Abu Maiser. "A clever man must hold the key to open the door in a crisis. The key is Palestine, the people of Palestine. The representative of the peo-ple is the PLO. He (Kissinger) has ignored our existence In Washington, Kissinger told a meeting of the Public Broadcasters Service on Monday he is hopeful current peace efforts will avert a new war. "Another war in the Middle East would be a catastrophe for all the parties," he said. "It would settle none of the issues before them."

Signs daubed on Jerusalem shop walls read "An eye for an eye, a life for a life" as Israelis demanded vengeance for the death of three Israelis in the Arab terrorist attack on a border settlement Sunday. Jerusalem police said they were holding four teen-agers, including two Americans, suspected of plotting revenge raids against Arabs in Israel. The four were caught prowling with tire bombs through the Arab section of Jerusalem.

Three thousand mourners attended a funeral Monday evening for a 23-year-old housewife, her husband and brother, killed in the guerrilla raid on the northern farm village of Kfar Yuval. All four guerrillas were killed in the raid, which was immediately followed by Israeli reprisal raids against guerrilla targets in southern Lebanon.

In other Middle East developments: Sadat told An Nahar that a provisional Palestinian government would tacilitate the Arab's quest for a settlement with Israel through American understanding and assistance

He said Ford was "a man of straight-forwardness, stability and candor.

'He comes from the Midwest, where people are mostly farmers. They have characteristics of stability, simplicity and candor, and I sensed Ford has all these traits,' Sadat said.

'We are sick of the cowboy politics of (former President) Johnson, but Ford was frank and open ... and I can say the man wants a settlement for the problem, in fact he is determined."

The Egyptian leader said Washington would launch a drive for a total Middle East settlement after the Ford administration completes its reassessment of its Middle East policy, but there made by "a new American initiative" before the Geneva conference is reconvened.

Ford hopes Rocky will be '76 running mate

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford says Nelson A. Rockefeller has been a good partner as vice president and he hopes he will be his running mate in 1976.

But Ford said Monday he will leave the choice up to the delegates at the Republican National Conven-

"Both of us in these coming months will be submitting ourselves to the will of the delegates at the Republican National Convention in 1976," Ford said in a statement.

"I am confident both of us can convince the delegates that individually and as a team we should be nominated," the statement added. The statement was released by Press Secretary Ron Nessen after Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., suggested that Rockefeller would make a good secretary of state and that Ford should change running mates next year. Other Republican conservatives also are urging Ford to drop Rockefeller as his running mate. Rockefeller says the decision is up to Rockefeller demonstrated his stand last week when he asked the New York State Republican party not to endorse him. The GOP complied and endorsed only Ford.

Ford's statement on Rockefeller gave the vice president a strong endorsement.

My great admiration for Nelson Rockefeller is very well known," the President said. "I selected him for vice president because I respected bis judgment, experience and president and he exceeded my expectations," Ford said. "He has done a fine job in every way.' Asked if Ford will make a de-

Rockefeller for nomination. The delegates will make the decision.' Nessen said Ford feels that every convention should be open until one candidate wins enough delegates to gain the nomination.

Doctor insurance hikes postponed

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Malpractice insurance will not cost as much as previously announced for 9,000 Southern California doctors. The malpractice premiums were to increase 141 per cent on July 1, but Phoenix Insurance Co. announced Monday that the hike is being postponed at least three months.

The postponement was announced at a hearing by the state Insurance Commission on whether the rate boost was legal.

Murder charge sought against mental patient

Sheriff's deputies today planned to ask a murder complaint against a 73year-old mental patient who, they said, shot to death a fellow patient Sunday in a La Puente convalescent Deputies said that Joseph Carmoush went to his room, got a World War II vintage Japanese army rifle and shot 363-pound Gilbert Roath through the heart at the home at 16-622 Wegman Drive.

The men had been arguing over the loudness of a television set prior to the shooting, witnesses said. Roath, 42, was pronounced dead at the Deputies had to physically subdue Carmoush when the operator of the home, Ethel Porter, was unable to quiet him after the shooting. Carmoush suffered cuts and bruises in the struggle and was taken later to the jail ward of County-USC Medical Center where he was treated and confined.

Mrs. Porter said later that when she saw Carmoush appear with the rifle, she tried to stop him, but could not. Deputies later booked Carmoush on suspicion of murder.

They described the home as a board and care center for mental

Four youths were arrested at their homes today in the five hours earlier robbery of In-n-Out Burger, at Central and Francis avenues, Chino.

Jake Martin and Mark Forwalker were in a back room of the business where they were counting the day's receipts when they were confronted by two masked robbers, each holding a .22 caliber rifle.

The robbers demanded that the money be placed in a bag then ripped a telephone cord from a wall before they fled with the loot.

Am employe told sheriff's Deputies Karl Schwartz and Paul Weeks that he recognized a robber as being an ex-employe Sheriff's detective Joe Henry arrested at their homes in Chino and Ontario two 17-year-olds and two 16year-olds. At one home he said he confiscated two .22 caliber rifles and a bag of money. The two 17-year-olds were booked at the West End sheriff's station on a charge of suspicion of armed robbery. The two 16-year-olds were booked on suspicion of being accessories to an armed robbery. An 8-year-old girl was molested late Monday afternoon in the La Verne area by a man who got her into his car on the pretext of looking for a lost dog, sheriff's deputies said.

It was the second such incident in the area in the last couple of weeks. The little girl, a student at La Verne Heights Elementary School, was picked up as she was standing at Williams Avenue and Bowdoin Street. She later told deputies that she didn't want to enter the car, but was afraid not to. She was released nearby a few minutes later and was unharmed.

The man was described as a Caucasian between 20 and 25. He had dark hair, was 5 feet 10, had a tattoo on his upper right arm and collarlength hair. He wore a white T shirt and blue jeans.

An Ontario police officer suffered a jaw injury when struck by a thrown beer bottle during a disturbance at a party Sunday night in the 200 block of E. Phillips Avenue in Ontario.

Officer Frank Browne, according to Ontario police, suffered a severely bruised jaw during the fracas involving numerous persons attending a party. Police arrested Ronnie Gonzales, 21, of 1032 S. Greenwood Ave., Ontario, on suspicion of resisting ar-

Browne, according to reports, was one of a number of officers called to the scene by residents reporting a noisy party. Officers, while attempting to arrest Gonzales, were met by a menacing crowd which began throwing rocks and bottles. Browne said he was attempting to arrest the suspect after he refused to move from the street.

Family 'murder for money' scheme described at trial

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) - James U. Ruppert designed a "murder for money" plan in which he hoped to destroy his entire family during an Easter Sunday gathering and inherit $300,000, Butler County Prosecutor John Holcomb says.

Holcomb also told a threejudge Common Pleas Court panel on the opening day of Ruppert's murder trial Monday that he would show that Ruppert shot his mother, brother, sister-in-law, and eight nieces and nephews after he failed in a scheme to gain control of his brother's savings account. Holcomb said in his opening statement that Ruppert had hopes of gaining the inheritance which would be left by his mother, Charity, and brother, Leonard, who lived with his wife and eight children, aged 4 to 17, in nearby Fairfield, Ohio

The prosecutor said the 41 year-old unemployed draftsman planned to be apprehended for the slayings and that he had already determined that he would enter a plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. Ruppert was charged with 11 counts of aggravated murder.

"With that end in view, he would be sent to Lima State Hospital for the criminally insane, later be declared sane, and walk out a free man with $300,000 in his pocket," the prosecutor said.

Holcomb said the shooting started after Ruppert emerged from his room during a family gathering at his mother's home, carrying three revolvers and a rifle.

College pay hike snarled

The Chaffey College Board of Trustees has adopted a tentative budget which accommodates an 8 per cent salary increase for administrators and classified staff.

Board action for the same cost-of-living wage hike plus additional benefits, effective July 1. for teachers was stymied when the Certificated Employes Council held out for a 12.5 per cent increase. CEC is the negotiating body for the

In its present form, the 1975-1976 budget amounts to $13,614,660 compared to the current year's $1-Since an impasse has been evoked by CEC, a fact-finding panel will be set up at Chaffey to implement the meet-and-confer process. The panel will be composed of three persons, one chosen by the board. one selected by CEC and a person agreed upon by both After the panel makes its recommendations at a public meeting, the board of trustees, by law, may still take whatever action on the issue it deems appropriate in the interest of the district

Before the final approval of the budget, the board will review the entire fiscal program during July and August

$9.3 million budget for Citrus

The Citrus College Board will consider the preliminary budget for the 1975-76 year at its Wednesday meeting at 4 p.m. on the campus

The preliminary budget. submitted to the board in May, totals $9,327,424, which is $1 million over the 1974-75 adopted budget of $8,324,425.

The board will also consider methods of financing the East Campus Automotive Facilities and Utilities project which was awarded to the construction firm of Dewitt Etheridge on April 24.

Total cost of the facility is $868.938. of which the state will finance $565,805. The district's share is $303,133. It will be determined whether construction should be financed all from reserves, or part from reserves and part from an override.

At a special meeting, the board of trustees granted certificated and classified employes of the college an 8.5 per cent across the board cost-of-living salary increase, effective July 1.

The trustees also granted a district-paid dental plan for employes.

in favor of the 8.5 per cent increase with Margaret C. K. Gibbs of Claremont and Glenn H. Bashore of Azusa voting against the margin of increase, although both said there was a justification for a salary increase.

College administrations are not affected by the salary increase

In addition to the cost-ofliving increase and dental plan, the board members recommended that 50 per cent of the classification and salary study be implemented during the 1975-76 school year, with the in-

The trustees voted 3 to 2 tent of granting the remaining 50 per cent during the 1976-77 school year if it is financially feasible. The salary study was performed by Employe Management Services, at the request of the trustees. The school's employes had sought a 12.1 per cent cost-of-living increase and full implementation of the salary study. The trustees denied three other requests for increased benefits.

An open house to introduce the new La Verne office of the Bank of America will be held at 6 p.m. Wednesday, branch Manager Merle Runyon announced today.

The office is at Foothill Boulevard and Wheeler Avenue. A ribbon-cutting ceremony involving community leaders as well as regional bank officials will be held at 5:45 p.m.

Visitors will be eligible for prizes which include a paid vacation for two as well as savings accounts.

The $485,000 bank structure will replace an existing mobile unit at the site which has been in service since April, 1974.

Designed in a contemporary Spanish style, the new office will contain 10,182 square feet of floor space and will include a 16station teller line, a merchants deposit section, safe deposit accommodations and drive-in window service which will be open 8:30 to 5 Monday through Thursday and 8:30 to 6 on Friday

ONTARIO: What's come over you? Look up and you'll see those PSA Grinningbirds smiling down. For good reasons. More flights connecting northern and southern California than any other airline. Good connections with Hertz cars and Hyatt Hotels Forty low-cost tours (mini-vacations). Look up PSA

PSA. 2 times a day to and from San Diego.

Americans can send letters to N. Vietnam Americans can send letters to North Vietnam but not to the United States' former allies, South Vietnam and Cambodia, a situation the Postal Service is striving to remedy by arranging for service

Lack of available transportation forced the U.S. Postal Service to suspend mail service to South Vietnam and Cambodia when those countries fell to Communist-led insurgents earlier this year. But these are the only two places in the world not connected, in some way, to the red, forward them to Hanoi white and blue mailbox on the corner.

There is no direct mail service to North Vietnam, but letters for that country technically the People's Republic of Vietnam - are sent to Hong Kong and postal officials there

The same indirect setup is true of Cuba and North Korea, which have no direct service with the United States but which receive mail sent through

Canada and Hong Kong respectively. The United States has an obligation through the Universal Postal Union to deliver mail to any part of the world regardless of the political situation, according to a spokesman for the U.S. Postal Service. The postal union, slightly more than 100 years old, is the international organiza-

Keep baby's name

DEAR DR. BROTH-ERS: My husband and I were two of the fortunate people to get a Vietnamese child during the recent babylift. We had been trying for over a year, so naturally we were thrilled when we discovered that our time had come. We had always wanted a son and we'd decided that when we could adopt a child we would name him after my husband's brother who died in the war. So, before this child arrived, in our minds we'd name him Roger.

sister-in-law thinks it's terrible of us not to call him by his own name - his Vietnamese name, that is, which neither of us can even pronounce. She seems to think this is very important. Neither my husband nor I want to do anything to hinder the mental or physical health of our baby, but we're so confused now, we're just calling him "Baby" or "Buster" and I know that's wrong. What do you think? - S.T.

Dear S.T.: I, tend to go along with the view that it is best to keep the child's given name because it is an important part of his identity, and when he is having to face so many changes, this becomes even more important than it would naturally be.

Make a point of learning to pronounce his name correctly, for that will help to reassure the child and give him some feeling that at least part of him is on familiar ground.

Dr. Jean Carlin, who served in Southeast Asia with Volunteer Physicians for Vietnam and is now associate dean of the College of Medicine at the University of California at Irvine, feels it is of major importance that the Vietnamese child over 6 or 8 months old be allowed to keep his name. She has also offered some other very sound suggestions for new parents of Asian children. She advises

CIDER VINEGAR, B-60

She suggests that parents let any child over 2 choose between silverware and chopsticks and that the child will be healthier if, at least for the first few months, he has his bowls of rice and thin rice soup plus some new American foods. Give the child as much freedom as possible and help him to feel at home by letting him hold his bowl under his chin and squat on his haunches instead of sitting on a chair as long as he chooses to do so.

For the first few months, let the child choose between sleeping on a bed or on the floor with a blanket and stuffed toy, or even a family dog or cat. If the child brought any toy or any object from home let him keep it as it helps a child to have some reminder of what was left behind. It will be his security blanket.

Parents should relax and try not to force new patterns on the children. In time, when they become more adjusted and relaxed, they will automatically decide to try to do what those around them do in this new land. Generally, they should be allowed to make this transition at their own time.

Dr. Carlin also warns that these children may be alarmed and frightened by lightning, thunder, sirens or any kind of loud noise including fireworks, but that they may not be able to express their fears. Parents should expect this and give the child as much love and support as possible at all

I think any parents who adopt children soon learn that flexibility is essential for the welfare of the child. Often, adoptive parents have to change their own pace and learn to wait patiently for the child to come to them. Eventually, if there is enough love, trust and understanding, this will happen.

Dieting is more fun if you forget the crash program. Lose weight slowly by cutting down on portions of everything you eat but don't skip meals. Slower weight loss means less chance of sagging skin, especially in those who are many, many pounds overweight.

Virginia City

Crank telephones now gone

VIRGINA CITY, Nev. (AP) - Folks around here still have wooden sidewalks and 19th century store fronts to remind them that Virginia City was once the place San Franciscans could visit if they wanted to see a bigger

But now all 324 old-time crank telephones are gone, replaced with the newfangled dial and push button instruments found almost everywhere else.

The last call under the old system came Sunday at High Noon.

Kate Tannehill, an 84year-old native of the Comstock Lode, cranked on an old wall telephone at the Sundance Saloon.

She asked operator Marcella Goodman for Piper's Opera House and then talked with Alice Byrne, caretaker of the historic theater.

After the call, the operator disconnected the line and Virginia City's telephone system was switched out of the past.

Virginia City, with a current population of about 1,000, is the county seat of Storey County and a tourist spot for people with a nostalgic bent. The boom which swelled its populatin to about 70,000 came after the California Gold Rush of the mid-19th century made Virginia City the largest city in the west.

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph, which operates 80 per cent of the nation's phone service, said Virginia City was the last place in the company's system where you could pick up a receiver, give the crank a turn or two, and say "Hello Mabel, get me Martha, I think she's at the general store.

One of Virginia City's 'Mabels' was Frances Avansino, an operator on the old "magneto" board for almost 30 years.

Outside of a few real old customers, people here really wanted the new system," said Mrs. Avansino, who is retiring from the company next month.

It will now be faster and cheaper to call Reno, 25 miles over the mountains to the northwest, she said.

But Mrs. Avansino admitted that people were going to miss some of the advantages of the old way-primarily the personalized service.

"Over the years, I've gotten calls from people who just want to know how

Welfare red tape slashed

SACRAMENTO (AP) -The Brown administration said Monday it will savehundreds of thousands of tax dollars and cut red tape by knocking out a cornerstone of former Gov. Ronald Reagan's welfare reforms.

Mario Obledo, Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s health and welfare secretary, said he is eliminating the so-called prior authorization requirement for the 26 million people in the multibillion dollar Medi-Cal program.

'This will eliminate the need for at least one million telephone calls and the unnecessary filling out, mailing and processing of eight million pieces of paper which physicians, pharmacists and other health care providers must now submit to the State Department of Health,' Obledo said.

Last year, Obledo said, the department spent $900,000 in clerical salaries that cut only $300,000 from fees requested for physician office visits.

"This resulted in a net loss of $600,000 to the taxpayers, $2 million of doctor time spent on forms rather than patient care and delay of needed services to 400,000 sick Californians,' he said.

In 1971, then-Gov. Reagan pushed through a series of changes in welfare and Medi-Cal, which he said would cut state costs.

One of the changes was to require a Medi-Cal patient making a third doctor's office visit or seeking a third routine drug prescription in a month has had to gain approval from a state consultant.

Forty-eight consultants throughout the state have been taking the phone calls and granting approval to 98 per cent of the requests, department records show. Patients generally had to wait 20 minutes for a decision.

5.5% pay increase passes in Walnut School District

A 5.5 per cent increase in teacher's and administrators' salaries was approved by the Walnut school board

Monday night.

The salary range for teachers in 1975-76 will be from $9,265 to $19,545. The top figure will be for teachers with 14 years of experience and a master's degree plus 30 graduate units.

The administrative-management salary schedule will range from $19,125 to $34,475.

Teachers obtained a slight increase in medical benefits and payment by the district of increased premiums for insurance already included in teachers' contracts.

Board members approved a tentative 1975-76 general fund budget of $7,854,020. Restoration was made of three custodial positions and of nursing services. This was made possible

The Claremont school board Monday night adopted a tentative budget of $10,336,855 for the 1975-76 fiscal year, which represents a tax rate increase of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Claremont School District voters approved a tax override of $1 in March.

District Business Manager Charles Abbott estimated that the general purpose tax rate would be $5.685 per $100 assessed valuation, and explained that the district temporarily is looking at a budget which does not reflect deficit spending.

He cautioned that final agreement on teachers salaries, certificated supportive service salaries, and administrative salaries would certainly place the district in a deficit financing situation when the final budget is adopted in August.

He explained that the budget includes $154,459 for teachers salaries, which brings funds available in contingencies up to the last board offer of $50 per average daily attendance during Certificated Employe Council negotiations.

The CEC last Friday asked for $75 per ADA during negotiations.

Abbott stressed that the district's projections of income might not "hold up" in three areas: adult education, summer school ADA, and the Mentally-Gifted Minor program, which could mean $76,000.

He explained that it is becoming evident that the legislature will put some type of restriction on the growth of the district's adult education program, and that the district $60,000 and expenditures by $24,000 for a net loss of $36,000.

Abbott further explained that preenrollment for summer school does not appear sufficient to meet the district goal of increasing income from summer school ADA by $20,000.

He said that "also up in the air" is a possible adjustment to MGM income as a result of a recent audit of the district's program. The adjustment probably will mean a decrease of between $15,000 and $20,000 which would be applied against the 1975-76 state principal apportionment.

The board will receive a publication budget July 16.

Glendora tot's death investigated

Sheriff's homicide detectives are investigating the death Sunday night of a 22-month-old Glendora girl who was taken to a hospital unconscious by her parents.

The victim, Patricia Ann Branham, died about eight hours after admission at County-USC Medical Center, apparently of a head injury. An autopsy was ordered.

The child's mother, Mrs. Nancy Branham, 35, told deputies that Patricia fell and struck her head on a metal bunk bed while playing in a bedroom with her half-brother, Eddie Carpenter, 11. The incident was at the Branham home at 19106 Armstead St.

Deputies investigating the case reported that Mrs. Branham herself has been treated twice for injuries allegedly inflicted on her by her husband, Robert.

L.A. OKs funds for 1st leg of transit system

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles City Council has tentatively earmarked $31.1 million in state gasoline taxes for construction of the first leg of a rapid transit system.

The council, by a 12-1 vote, promised Monday to divert part of the city's share of the gasoline tax revenue over the next six years for construction of the transit line, provided the county does the same.

The transit project is expected to cost at least $900 million.

In addition to the city and county, a commitment of funds must also be made by the state Dept. of Transportation.

New turn for vacant housing in Pomona: subletting sales

By ED PRATHER PB Staff Writer

A new approach to the abandoned housing problem in the city was approved Monday night by the Pomona City Council with the acceptance of an agreement between the city and a non-profit agency for the repair and resale of 10 vacant homes.

Under the agreement the city will purchase the 10 homes from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and immediately resell them to Open Choices, a non-profit service agency in Pomona.

Open Choices with the aid of an investor will then repair the homes within 90 days and place them on the market for resale to individual buyers.

If the experimental project proves successful, the program may be expanded at a later date.

The project is still to be approved by HUD.

In other business, the council rejected a Planning Commission amendment to the city's zoning ordinance concerning the outdoor display of merchandise in commercial zones.

The action was at least a temporary victory for a group of second hand furniture dealers who were appealing enforcement of the ordinance, which prohibits the display of most used items outdoors.

Councilmen Adrian Wright, Benjamin Ochoa and Charles Bader all commented on the possible discriminating effect of the ordinance against the furniture dealers. They were joined in rejecting the amendment by Mayor Ray Lepire.

Councilmember Georgia Grove cast the lone dissenting vote, saying that the outdoor display of used merchandise was not in keeping with the council's commitment to beautify the city.

Chaffey drafts school budget showing tax cut, no pay hike

By PHYLLIS CANNON PB Staff Writer

A tentative $20.2 million 1975-76 budget which allows district taxpayers a 12.96 cent tax reduction per $100 of assessed valuation, was adopted Monday by the Chaffey Union High School board of trustees. It will be submitted to the county superintendent of schools.

Changes which school board members recommend will be reflected in the publication budget which will be presented July 21. A final budget will be adopted in early August.

The tentative budget must be a balanced budget, explained business manager J. Milo Thomas, therefore all funds which are not committed must be included as appropriations for contingencies.

Some $895,627 is shown in this category.

The tax rate to finance this budget is $2.4703 per $100 of assessed valuation. Of this amount, $2.2316 is for general purposes, 5 cents is for community services and 18.87 cents is for bond interest and redemption. The current tax rate in the district is $2.5999 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The tentative budget reflects only increment steps, but no salary increases for employes who have proposed 12 per cent pay hikes. Negotiations still are being carried on between representatives of the school board and the employe groups, and raises finally agreed to will be retroactive to July 1.

It would cost the district approximately $130,000 to increase employe salaries by 1 per cent.

The school board set $36,700 as the minimum cash price for the three-bedroom house at 639 W. F.St., which was built by the building construction class at Chaffey High School, and set 7 p.m. July 7, as the date for receiving bids.

Roger F. Dunlap, instructor of the class, said $32,628 had been spent on materials to construct the house which includes 1,520 square feet of living space, a cedar shake roof, covered patio, two bathrooms, brick fireplace, built-in appliances, carpeting, ceramic tile and custom drapes.

Tax rate not expected to change

Upland passes an $8.1 million budget

By VONNE ROBERTSON PB Staff Writer

The Upland City Council adopted a $8,145,000 budget for the 1975-76 fiscal year at its Monday meeting with the minimum amount of fan-fare.

The proposed budget includes $100,000 which was granted to community organizations during a special request meeting last week. It also includes a five per cent pay hike for city employes effective July 1.

Mayor Abner Haldeman said "This is still a very austere budget and doesn't include many of the services we wish we could cover. But it does reflect the current financial belt-tightening of the nation."

According to City Manager Lee Travers, the tax rate for Upland should remain the same if the city's assessment figures are what it expects. The current tax rate is $1.86 per $100 of assessed valuation.

'We won't have the assessment

"But we don't anticipate any tax rate change at this time."

During a public hearing on amendments to the merit rules of the city, Joe Woodford, representing city employes, presented a petition signed by 116 employes protesting the proposal to replace four legal holidays with floating holidays.

The merit committee had suggested that, to better serve the public, city services should be open on Lincoln's Birthday, Admission Day, Columbus Day and state election days and employes should be granted "floating holidays" instead.

Woodford said the employes were willing to trade Columbus Day for the Friday after Thanksgiving, but did not want the other holidays changed.

"If this happens, an employe has no idea which day he will be permitted to take off," said Woodford.

Travers replied that it would be expensive for the city to grant the Friday after Thanksgiving off to most employes because of the cost of paying the various "standby" crews which would have to man emergency facilities such as water and sanitation.

The council voted to leave the holiday schedule as it is presently slated.

Councilman Hal Bailin requested a complete study of the number of holidays granted city employes before the next fiscal year.

"Some of these holidays have really lost their importance and they are costing the city a great deal of money," Bailin said. He added that private industry had long since discontinued several of these holiday closings.

An appeal by Fotomat Corp. for the construction of a kiosk in the shopping center at Foothill Boulevard and Mountain Avenue was denied by the council. The proposal had been denied earlier by the Architectural Commission.

Councilman John E. McCarthy questioned Fotomat's represenJohn Robert Davis, as to why the firm didn't approach the city at the time the shopping center was proposed.

Davis answered that "We've always added our kiosks at existing shopping centers."

Bailin expressed the feeling that the shopping center was already congested and could ill afford to lose the nine parking spaces which Fotomat would require would require.

A request by Concerned Citizens Humane Committee for $71.84 to help finance a telephone answering service to locate lost pets was referred to the city manager's office for further study. The council wished to were going to cooperate in the

Basic freedom: a free press

The use of subpoena processes and contempt citations to force journalists to divulge confidential information they have obtained in the course of gathering the news has increased markedly in re-

Between January and April of this year alone, courts around the country issued no less than 56 subpoenas against newspeople. Reporters have been jailed. Just as serious, "gag orders" to prevent the reporting of court proceedings - even those open to the public - have risen from only two in 1966 to at least 28 in 1974.

Legal costs and trial expenses are such that the mere threat of court action can act as a restraint on the practical freedom of the press, says the Reporters Committee on Freedom of the Press, an organization of working journalists in print and broadcasting founded in 1970.

While many public-spirited attorneys have donated their services to defend newspeople, the rising number of cases has made a fund campaign

Thus the committee has launched a two-year drive to set up a "First Amendment Research and Defense Fund" to help pay the costs of legal research and defense services for the working press

In accepting the chairmanship of the campaign, Arthur R. Taylor, president of CBS, Inc., said:

On every side the press is faced with increasing litigation and other censorship efforts in the courts, legislatures and executive agencies on the local, state and federal levels. We believe the time has come for the news media to establish a centralized research, information and legal defense clearinghouse with sufficient manpower and financial resources to inform the public of the increasing legal threats to First Amendment freedoms and to aid reporters, editors and news organizations who want to fight back in the courts.

The alarmingly successful effort by some government officials to misuse the power of the subpoena and the court order to silence the flow of information through the press to the public has resulted in recent years in "the cumulative erosion of press freedom as never before witnessed under our Constitution," he claims.

The present threat, he says, is a "quieter, subtler and certainly more pernicious one," than the clumsy but well-publicized attacks on the press by high government officials in the recent past.

Ever since the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1972 that the First Amendment does not grant newsmen the general right to withhold information from grand juries, even if obtained during legitimate newsgathering activities, some judges and prosecutors have interpreted it as an invitation to go hunting in reporters' files for information, says Taylor. Sometimes the information bears on legitimate public concerns, sometimes it doesn't.

State "shield" laws designed to protect journalists from such efforts have been interpreted so narrowly as to be virtually useless against forced disclosure. The trend already has had a demonstrably chilling effect on the flow of information to the public, he says. Like most other things, this is not a clear-cut issue. First Amendment rights can and do conflict at times with other rights. And many Americans may feel that this new wave of attacks on the press is a problem affecting journalists alone, that it does not concern the ordinary citizen. As individuals, of course, reporters have no more rights than anybody else. But as members of the institution of the press, they are serving the interests of society by fulfilling its constitutionally assigned role as the public's ombudsman, as the unofficial fourth branch of government. It is too often forgotten, says Taylor, that freedom of the press is basic to the rights of all citizens, that without the lines of communication provided by the press to the body politic, the other basic rights of individuals become lifeless extremities.

Naval power

On the one hand Americans are told that this country is losing its naval supremacy by default to a vigorous Russian shipbuilding program. On the other, they have now been told in effect that we have too many big, modern warships.

The Soviet navy will be "a major beneficiary" of the reopened Suez Canal, says Navy Secretary J. William Middendorf III, because it will give much quicker access to the Persian Gulf. In any dash from the Mediterranean to the Gulf or the Indian Ocean, he says, Soviet warships would have the advantage of being able to sail through the canal with ease while American aircraft carriers, which are too big for the canal, would have to go all the way around Africa.

Interestingly enough, though, the new ships the Navy would like to see built are hardly any smaller than the ones we now have.

The fact that U.S. warships can sail directly from our East or West coasts to any trouble spot in the world, while the virtually landlocked Russians are confined by the Dardanelles, the Suez Canal and the Straits of Gibraltar, apparently is not counted as an advantage in our favor by the professional wor-

The public forum On pet abandonment

DEAR EDITOR:

We live in Alta Loma, an unincorporated area. Being in this position has many advantages, but along with the advantages comes many problems. The biggest one being that people with a pet they no longer want feel they have the right to bring them out here and just drop them off. This not only is a terrible injustice to the animals, but is an injustice to the people of the area

Two weeks ago, a man came through here and let two lovely, big dogs out of his car and drove off. One of the dogs is a German shepherd and the other is a mixed breed.

It is white with a black patch over both eyes that extends over his nose and one ear. Since it is time to license dogs, it would be my guess that they no longer could afford to pay for the license or the required shots, therefore they felt they needed to get rid of the animals. However isn't there some way they could do this without either subjecting the residents of this area to stray dogs or

I called the shierff to see if we couldn't get the dogs picked up. They gave me the number of rabies control - which I called with the same answer - they don't come into our area to pick up stray animals. They did give me a toll free number to call, which is animal control for this area. I did exactly as they told me. But, when the truck came and the dogs weren't in the immediate area of my home, the driver told me that he didn't have time to drive up and down the streets looking for the animals and that I must get the animals contained in my back yard and when they were again in the area. I could get them to take the dogs with them.

This is easier said than done. I do have a dog of my own and I also have a very small backyard. Even if I had a large back yard, I couldn't do this for that would mean feeding the dogs for however long it would take them to get here to pick them up. We are retired and living on a very limited

Is this any reason for allowing the residents of any unincorporated area to be deluged with pets that others no longer want? Just what can we do to get this sort of thing stopped? How can we get rabies control or animal control to do the job that the taxpayers' money is supposed to be spent for? The longer the dogs are allowed to roam, the bigger threat they are to all the people of the area, for they get hungrier by the day.

Doc Peirsol Just in jest

Looking back over the years I recall that I was able to "Return to Normalcy" with Harding; managed to "Keep Cool with Coolidge;" and, for a time, rejoiced because there was "A Chicken in Every Pot", thanks to Hoover. Later I got "A New Deal" and learned I had "Nothing to fear but fear itself" under Roosevelt; Then I enjoyed "The Great Society" because of Johnson.

In a way it was a great life. One just latched on to a catchy political slogan and ebbed and flowed with the tide. But here lately I have been finding it a bit difficult to relate to the catch phrases today's wonderful wizards of words are concocting in an effort to keep the political peons in a state of perpetual euphonius euphoria. Somehow, "Whip Inflation Now", instead of promising me the world on a silver platter, puts too much of the problemright back on my own two shoulders.

Tom Tiede The fantasy of butterflies

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - The news from the Interior Department is, well, glum. Awful. One can become catlous to government bulletins concerning war, pestilence, even famine - the world is, as we've come to know, indecent. But the spirit sinks like a stone in an oily pond to learn that, butterflies have become the first insect to be placed on the threatened species list.

Cockroaches, fine, Mosquitoes, okay. Bedbugs, spiders or tics. But butterflies? It's too much. True, Interior reports that as of now only two species are threatened, and they limited to the Florida Keys: the Schaus and the Bahamanian swallowtails. But 41 other types are also under study as to numbers and may very well be added later. For anyone who has laid in a meadow and watched a yellow monarch milk the flowers, it is a dark moment

I know there are those of you who will disagree. Recalling the ravages in your cabbage patch, you may praise the passing of the butterfly as also the end of the caterpillar. And certainly anyone with a porch light may hope that the moth too, a damn thing admittedly, will likewise soon suffer the fate of the swallowtails.

As for me, though, I'm struck by the prospect of any loss at all of the family lepidoptera. Noble creatures, I insist. There are, the biologists say, 10,000 species of butterflies in the world, 700 of them in America — and this is not enough. I once caught one in Australia with a wingspan of six inches - and that was not big enough. No staller with a net, I, for one believe the preservation of dead things morbid - but I am an awed spectator.

For the student, the butterfly is of singular interest. Neither bird nor creeper, it nonetheless incorporates the most remarkable features of both - and then some. Butterfly larvae account for a $500 million genuine silk industry, are left in the bottles of Mexican tequilla to signify authenticity, and in some species display color unexcelled in nature. Concerning this adult butterfly itself, it remains almost a fragile mystery: the wings do not move by muscles, but rather levers connected to the expansion and contraction of the thorax; and their coloring is only partly by pigmentation, the greater effect being created by arrangments of scales which create optimal phenomena of reflection.

This fragility, by the way, is not absolute. In great numbers even butterflies can be treacherous story, never authenticated, of a ship "attacked" by butterflies in 1919. The vessel, the S.S. Adler, was allegedly crossing the Persian Gulf heavy with cargo when enormous swarms of butterflies settled on the deck; their combined weight is said to have sunk the ship. Yes? No! Scientists do say flocks of the insects weigh in the tons.

As for even greater mystery related to the fluttering things, I recall a personal incident in India some years ago. Walking through the old city of Delhi I was approached by a robed peddler selling live butterflies in tiny cages. The man, ancient, as are peddlers inevitably in India, opened one of the cages and a bluish insect flew out right to his ear, where it landed as if trained to do so. Then the peddler waves his hand in front of his face, whereupon the butterfly floated off the one ear and unto

The old man said he came from a village where the butterfly was venerated. Where their killing was outlawed. Where a mark of good fortune was a butterfly on the ledge. But how did he train the butterfly? Most do not live long enough to respond to anything save instinct. I told the old man I was dumbfounded, that I did not want to buy a butterfly, but that I would pay him for his show.

Then a most exceptional thing occurred. As I handed the man a small denomination note, he crumpled it up and tossed it into the air - where, honest, it became a butterfly and flew to his ear.

Magic? I believe in it, particularly where butterflies are concerned. Now anyway. Thus the news from the Interior Department stuns. One of the good things of life is fantasy, and the butterfly is just that, only that, nothing else. We don't need its oil, its hide, its meat, only its fantasy - and we need that with increasing ardor.

The boil has burst. One in 10 school-agers had become so defiant that the other nine were being robbed: teachers were being raped. principals knifed or shot.

So in one school district after another: reaction! The North Carolina Legislature has passed a law making it a crime for students to fight, provoke violence by gestures or words, or to ignore an order to leave the building. Penalty: six months and $500. In San Francisco, any youngster carrying a weapon, even a cub scout knife, is automatically suspended.

Uniformed guards patrol the halls. In Detroit, after two killings in January, the board of education authorized armed police patrols. Chicago is spending $3 million on school security after an elementary school pupil shot a principal to death. Pittsburgh is expanding its school guard force. New York City's school guards now carry walkie-talkie radios, and there are panic buttons in classrooms which teachers in danger can use to alert the central security The problem is worst in the ghettos, but it's not all in the ghettos. Schoolroom crime is both urban and suburban. Drug crackdowns in well-to-do schools in Houston, Tex., and Westchester, N.Y., triggered student outrage; they stoned teachers and

Houston, Tex, and Monticello, Ark., have reinstated wooden paddles. But now a countercounterattack threatens to undo these constructive efforts. Lawsuits against teachers who dare to discipline have multiplied. Educators are accused of "violating students"

A recent Supreme Court decision didn't help when it upheld the right of suspended children to demand due process hearings and to sue the school for damages

Much of the problem is the prevalent practice of discouraging slow-witted or rebellious youngsters from dropping out. This "promote everybody" concept compounds the discipline problem.

As of now, all students seeking to enter Michigan State University will have to prove that they can read and write. But if they are turned down, chances are they will sue somebody.

Public schools may not survive. History says civilized institutions are built by civilized men to be smashed by barbarians.

Dr. MillerBarking cools parakeet ardor

DEAR DR. MILLER: Helen and Herbie, my parakeets, haven't shown any signs of making a nest yet. They just sit around all day looking nervous. I know this is because Gipper, my brother's dog, barks all day. He doesn't bark at night because my parents shut him up. Of course, my brother said the barking doesn't bother the birds. He's wrong, isn't he? - E. G.

DEAR E. G.: Yes, it's possible that parakeet passion could be put off by the Gipper's barking. Nor would his nighttime silence help parakeet productivity much, since (for the birds, anyway) nighttime's for roosting, not romancing.

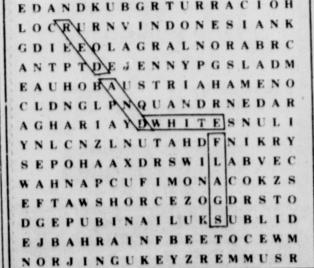

DEAR DR. MILLER: Is it bad for a puppy to begin training him too soon? - S.W.

DEAR S.W.: Training too soon isn't likely if teaching efforts are molded to the capabilities of the canine student. Any puppy past weaning gradually can begin to learn. His retention is comparatively poor, his concentration span remarkably short, yet he can make a start and without pounding down his psyche in the process. Above all, be gentle, and use plenty of praise. Training sessions should be ultra short, but persistence and patience will prove rewarding. Results often exceed what should be very modest expectations.

DEAR DR. MILLER: My cat was suspected of having a cancer called lymphosarcoma. It is my understanding that lymphosarcoma, which is found in a lot of cats, is caused by the feline leukemia virus. My cat was tested for feline leukemia, and the test was negative. Doesn't this mean, then, that my cat would not have the lymphosarcoma? I may be confused, but wouldn't it be true that if the feline leukemia were not present, the lymphosarcoma could not be present, either? - K.Y.

DEAR K.Y.: It's easy to be confused about feline leukemia and associated problems, but a great deal of work is being done with this important disease group to clarify its many aspects. It is true that the feline leukemia virus does cause feline lymphosarcoma. Unfortunately, the antibody test used to locate the presence of feline leukemia virus in the blood cannot be used as a specific test for lymphosarcoma. One out of four cats with lymphosarcoma may be negative to the leukemia blood test. Conversely, a positive leukemia blood test would not prove lymphosarcoma was present. Specific lymphosarcoma diagnosis would be dependent on finding cells of this cancer in the bone marrow, blood, or in a section of tissue (biopsy).

Freud rides the freeway

I was (yawn) fascinated to read the conclusion by Dr. Harry J. Woehr, an industrial clinical psychologist, whatever that may be, that emotions influence our driving ability. So what else is new?

This scientific observation will come as a startling revelation to all skateboarders under the age of 11. "Anger and hostility with poor emotional control," avers the industrial clinical psychologist, "could be a large contributing factor in speed and traffic violations which produce accidents.

The reverse is also true, of course. Some of the worst accidents occur when the driver is feeling very jolly. singing, laughing, living it up - or un-angry, and non-hostile to the point of dozing off at the wheel. Like ther's two sides to the coin, eh, Doc?

But he has a point. There is a definite correlation, he syas, between personality traits and driving records. If that young tiger gets a traffic ticket, it will probably be for speeding, reckless driving, tailgating, or some other impetuous and dangerous deed. If his paunchy, bespectacled father gets tabbed, it will be for driving too slowly on the freeway or overtime parking.

Anger, anxiety, tension and uneasiness, usually not related to the driving, make poor and often dangerous drivers of us. The mechanical ability to operate a car and the capability to judge speed and distance are often the least of the demands. To make the most of these, the driver must have himself in mental and emotional control.

This leads to all sorts of problems for the California Highway Patrol. It's one thing to smell a guy's breath and give him a roadside sobriety test; it's quite another to work out some curb-side Krafft-Ebing analysis or freeway Freudian examination to determine if he is pyschoneurologically competent.

She met insanity face to face

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I had a terrifying experience. I know what it's like to meet insanity face to face. I've been there.

After a week in the hospital, my illness was diagnosed as hypoglycemia. I had suffered shock and gone into coma.

Christmas was coming. We were doing some remodeling of the house. I was working at a new job - but I was feeling great. I had energy to spare. I was also drinking lots of coffee or spiced tea with lots of sugar and the usual candy, sweets and whatnot around at Christmas time.

My entire house was flooded by a broken water pipe. There was company late at night and a drink once in a while. There were three deaths in our family in six weeks, then my husband asked for a divorce. And, the day after Christmas I got sick and started screaming. Two days later I came back to 1975; I had lived back in 1956 for two days. Guess I went back to a "Happier time" in my life. I have been treated cautiously like "Poor Jane — she's kinda — well you know: and "knock it off, you are not REALLY sick, you are just feeling sorry for yourself." What do they know?

I am following my doctor's orders: rest, strict diet, no sugar, no booze, it's a wonderful diet. And, I am alone at last. Praise the Lord! Please send me any information you have on hypoglycemia. Everyone has his own ideas on it - am I just feeling sorry for myself (I do kinda) or am I "off my rocker?" HELP! You are a doctor, and you should know. I feel that any emotional upset could still send me reeling off a cliff into the cold.

DEAR READER - One of several reasons there are so many different ideas about hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) is that it is a symptom and can be caused by several different conditions. Some of the symptoms are the same regardless of the cause.

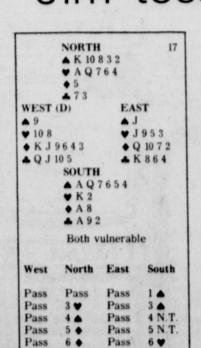

Severe low blood glucose levels can induce shock and loss of consciousness. Insulin shock used in treating certain psychiatric disorders does that to patients. The in- both.

sulin lowers the blood sugar until shock and associated symptoms develop.

Less severe symptoms of hypoglycemia and simple anxiety can be the same. Both anxiety and low blood sugar cause a release of adrenaline which causes sweating, tremors, heart pounding and symptoms often attributed to low blood sugar. The problem is sorting out whether the adrenaline release was triggered by anxiety or by low blood

The important thing is to be sure you get the right treatment, and it sounds like you are. Treating a patient with anxiety or other emotional problems for low blood sugar and neglecting the real problem won't help matters. Similarly, treating the emotional symptoms that can occur in some cases of low blood sugar without recognizing or treating the hypoglycemia and its real cause is not usually successful, either. If you have both, you need management for

Looks as though the recession hasn't hit the churches. On the contrary. Protestants in this country pledged 25 per cent more money so far this year than last. Roman Catholics boosted their offerings by 20 per cent. And the United Jewish Appeal picked up a lot more money, too. How do you account for that expanding generosity even as the cost of living and joblessness zooms upward?

RETIREMENT

No. 7, William.

It was 93 years ago that the practice of "retirement" got started. In Germany. Previously, a lot of people wondered if they'd ever reach an age where they could take a rest, and wished, but it wasn't expected. And it didn't become national policy here until 1932, just 43 years ago. Now it looks as though a whole new outlook may be taking hold. Pollsters report that more and more Seasoned Citizens say they don't like the idea of retirement at all. They want the Social Security money, all right. But they're not sure it's worth it to quit.

Lakers are in heaven

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Owner Jack Kent Cooke of the Los Angeles Lakers is wagering a minimum of $2.5 million that Kareem Abdul-Jabbar can turn around his National Basketball Association team.

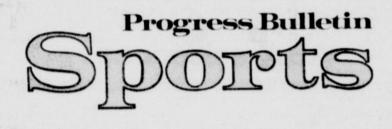

"I am adjustable," the 7-foot-3 Abdul-Jabbar said Monday after signing a five-year contract with the Lakers. "I can play the game plan no matter what it is.

'Control' gets Sutton No. 11

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Don Sutton may lead the National League in strikeouts, but he says he doesn't consider himself a strikeout pitcher.

"I'm not a Nolan Ryan," Sutton said after striking out six Houston Astros Monday night in pitching Los Angeles to a 4-2 victory, becoming the league's first pitcher to win 11

"I'm more of a control pitcher than I am a strikeout pitcher. Ryan can walk a few guys, then strike out seven or eight in a row. Not me. If I walk guys, they seem to always score. I'm beating myself that way.

Just to make certain he didn't beat himself Monday night, Sutton walked no one.

Steve Garvey slugged his seventh homer of the year, a two-run shot in the seventh inning, that pulled the Dodgers from behind to earn only their second win in their last seven starts. With the victory, they remain 31/2 games behind Cincinnati in the National League West.

Andy Messersmith, 9-3, will try to make it two straight when he starts Tuesday night for the Dodgers. He'll be opposed by the Astros' Dave Rob-Angeles a 1-0 lead. Cesar Cedeno then followed a single by Roger Metzger with his fourth homer to put Houston in front, 2-1.

"It's like a big weight off our shoulders," Garvey said after hitting his home run to put the Dodgers back on top. "My swing hasn't been as bad lately as my selection of pitches. But the last couple of games I've been more selective. I think we'll be all right now.

For Sutton, Monday night's victory was his ninth straight over Houston. He hasn't lost to the Astros since July of 1972 and has a 19-9 career record against them. Of his 11 wins this year, three have been against Houston. All three have been complete games and Sutton has permitted only three runs in the three

"I really can't explain my record against Houston," said Sutton, 'anymore than I can explain my record against Chicago." Sutton is 5-16 against the Cubs.

Jabbar has become a Laker. He and Walt Wesley were traded by the Milwaukee Bucks to Los Angeles for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters and the Lakers' two first-round draft picks, David Meyers of UCLA and Junior Bridgeman of Louisville.

'A heavenly day, a delightful day," said Cooke when the acquisition of Abdul-Jabbar was announced. Cooke is the man who has to pay the bills. Abdul-Jabbar will earn at least $500,000 per year from the Lakers.

Cooke paid big money to Wilt Chamberlain, who helped lead the Lakers to an NBA title four years ago, then quit and became playercoach of the San Diego Conquistadors of the rival American Basketball Association.

Cooke balked when Chamberlain wanted a tax-free annual salary of $400,000.

The owner didn't say what he would pay Abdul-Jabbar, who was called Lew Alcindor when he led UCLA to three national collegiate titles. The Bruins lost only two games during that span.

After the 1969 season, Abdul-Jabbar was the top draft choice in the NBA, going to the last-place Bucks, a one-year-old expansion franchise. He was Rookie of the Year in his first season, led the Bucks to the NBA title in his second season and three times was the league's most valuable player.

With the acquisition of Abdul-Jabbar, Coach Bill Sharman of the Lakers said, "First, I'm terribly pleased to get him. I really feel-and I've tried to analyze it the last few days-he can help us in all departments. We try to have a running team, a fast-breaking team and he agrees Abdul-Jabbar, 28, who had asked to be traded, said the New York Knicks were his first choice, but it appeared to him they didn't really want him.

"I had a strong desire to go to New York. As a youngster I wanted to play there," said Abdul-Jabbar, who grew up there and first came to national prominence at New York's Power Memorial High School before choosing to play college ball at UCLA.

'The Lakers made a sincere effort to get me here. I don't think it is smart to go to people who don't real-

Cobb takes grid offer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)- The California Angels' loss at second base may be the Cincinnati Bengals' gain at cornerback.

Marvin Cobb, a 5-foot-11, 184pound standout at both positions at the University of Southern California signed to play with the National Football League team rejecting the American Leage baseball draft.

"We are halppy he decided in favor of football," said Cincinnati Bengals Coach and General Manager Paul Brown who selected Cobb in the NFL

Cobb, one of the few athletes to play on National Champion teams in two college sports, is also a National Merit Scholar and will play for the College All Stars against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Cobb hit .329 for the Trojans in 1973 when the team won the national title. USC repeated the Pacific Eight title in 1974 but lost out in thesemi-finals of the College World Series.

Brown also announced he had signed 20 of 22 players selected in this year's NFL draft.

Others signed Monday were Jeff West, University of Cincinnati punter; Ricky Davis, safety from Alabama, and Jack Novak, tight end from Wisconsin.

His lifetime scoring average is 30.4 points per game, highest ever in the NBA. He also has averaged 17 rebounds per game.

Cooke said both Meyers and Bridgeman had signed NBA con-tracts, explaining, "The terms to which the men signed were virtually dictated, or the perimeter of the terms were dictated, by Milwaukee. We acted almost as agents of the Milwaukee Bucks.

So the planning obviously had been long-term. The Lakers, who finished last in the Pacific Division after perennially making the playoffs, needed a center and a take-charge

Abdul-Jabbar is expected to team with forwards Kermit Washington and Cazzie Russell and guards Gail Goodrich and Lucius Allen to form a strong offense. Abdul-Jabbar also is expected to greatly improve the Lakers' defense. However, the Lakers' bench remains questionable with the four-for-two trade

Alverson said he was pleased with the trade, saying, "This was a most difficult choice, but had we chosen otherwise, Kareem might have played out the option year of his contract and left us with nothing to replace the irreplaceable asset he has

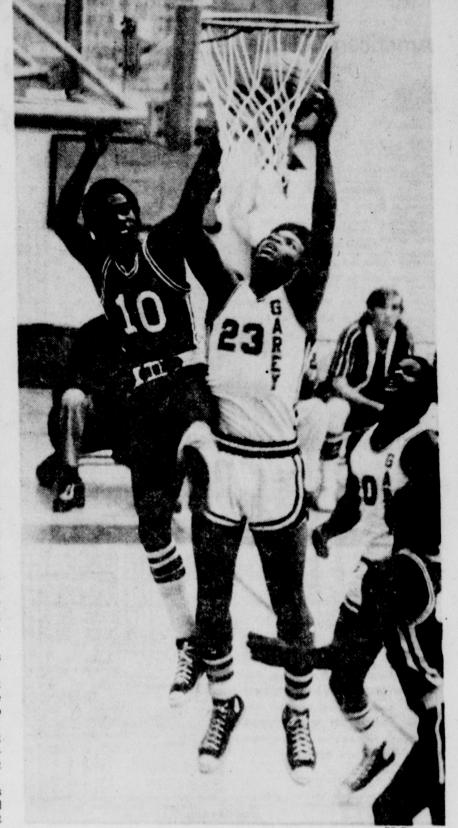

"We believe our future prospects are unmatched. We will have a level of quality and talent we have never had before. As soon as that talent comes together, we will have an instant contending team.

Milwaukee also finished last in its division last season.

The 7-0 Smith was the No. 1 draft pick of Buffalo five years ago. He played with the Braves for two years, then was traded to the Lakers. He has been an outstanding shot blocker, but his scoring average dipped to 12 points per game last Winters, a rookie last season, was used at both forward and guard and Cooke regards him as one of the best shooters in the game.

Although the Bridgeman contract was not known and agreed upon only last Saturday, Meyers reportedly signed a five-year contract calling for $1.5 million. Meyers was the leading scorer and captain of the UCLA team that won the NCAA title last season.

ALL-STAR COLLISION

Pomona High's Danny Wilson (10) collides with Garey High's Delbert McDonald (23) in a game played between the two schools this past basketball season. They'll both be on the court tonight again in the second annual Pomona Valley High School All-Star Basketball Game at Claremont High. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Take most of the best high school basketball players in the valley and put them into one game and you've got yourself the annual Pomona Valley High School All-Star Basketball

That's exactly what the La Verne Rotary Club did two years ago, and it's ready to unveil its second showing tonight at Claremont High.

Yet, "Pack Pavilion" will again be the site of some of the best high school basketball played all year. Tipoff time is scheduled for 8 p.m. As last year, the South has been posted the favorite to repeat as victor in the annual titanic. But many are expecting another close and exciting contest. Last year Coach Frank Elder's

South club ran off with the inaugural, 104-102. The game pitted the South's big men against the North's quick

Wings mull Dionne trade

MONTREAL (AP) - Alex Delvecchio, coach and general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, said Monday night his National Hockey League club now is studying two bids forcenter Marcel Dionne.

The Los Angeles Kings have indicated they are willing to part with three players from among Dan Maloney, Sheldon Kannegeiser, Terry Harper and Juha Widing in exchange for Dionne, now a free agent.

The other club in the bidding is the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The characteristics of the two clubs this year is a carbon copy of last vear

Coach Mike Wells' Rebels again possess a lot of height, with some outstanding jumpers. Coach Jeff Mc-Call's Yanks have an abundance of good-shooting guards.

Leading the big men for the South will be Chino High's 6-foot-9 center Dirk Story. But probably the most impressive center for the South in practice sessions has been Rowland High's 6-foot-7 Steve Nichols.

'He may not look like he's doing a lot," Wells commented, "but he is. We're really impressed with what he

The other big men in tonight's South lineup include Chino High's 6foot-4 Mike Coppess, Chaffey High's 6-foot-4 Brian Jacobs, Walnut High's 6-foot-3 Cliff Manning, Garey High's 6-foot-5 Delbert McDonald, and Ontario High's 6-foot-7 Dan Pearce..

Rounding out the South squad are Ganesha's Donald Barnes (6-0), Ganesha's Ralph Dudley (5-6), Garey's Billy Evans (6-0). Montclair's Mike Medeiros (5-10) and Walnut's Tom Thompson (6-0).

The North has some exceptional hot-shooting guards, along with some deadly forwards.

Included in the North roster is San Dimas High's Steve Brahs, who won the valley's high school scoring derby this past season with a 22.6 average. Brahs, a 6-foot-3 forward for the Saints, is very dangerous from the outside - especially in the corners.

The Yanks also possess the valley's second-leading scorer in Claremont's Mike Toomay.

Toomay, a 6-foot-5 forward for the Wolfpack who will probably play center tonight, averaged 21.0 points an outing during the regular season The guards to watch on the North club will be Alta Loma's Roger Gubichuk (6-1), Charter Oak's Roosevelt Morris (6-1), Damien's John Pignotti (6-1) and Pomona's Danny Wilson (5-10)

The rest of the North roster includes Upland's Dave Duncan (6-4), Alta Loma's Tom Erbstoesser (6-4), Charter Oak's Brian Harrison (6-4), Damien's Cornell Kasbergen (6-4) and Royal Oak's Scott Woodland (6-

Obviously, the North has a little height while the South also has some outstanding guards. So it looks like another hot one brewing.

Some of the players may provide some excitement for the expected capacity crowd since dunk shots will be permitted.

All the players will see action in the first half, since each is required to play for at least five minutes in that first 24 minutes of play. Of course, each quarter will last 12 minutes, instead of the usual eight in

Philly builds Miller's morale two-stroke lead and made his closing the rain that hit the 6,687-yard

was only one winner- longshot Tom Jenkins-but two other players got what they wanted out of the weatherplagued Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Johnny Miller all but secured his place on the American Ryder Cup team, regained his deft putting stroke and put his confidence at a high point going into this week's U.S.

"Everything seems to be falling into place," Miller said after Monday's double-round windup. "I'm hitting the ball good. This does a lot for my confidence. And my putting is really coming around. It's a good feeling '

And even disappointed Bob Wynn, who blew a golden chance for his first official pro victory with a horrendous eight on the 71st hole, found a figurative ray of sunshine amidst Whitemarsh Valley Country Club "I'm disappointed but I'm not disgusted," said the 35-year-old Wynn. 'I got what I came for. I came in hoping to make a check big enough to put me in the top 60 (money winners for the year). I did that, so I can't complain.'

Jenkins had a five-stroke lead when the double round began. He retained it with a two-under-par 69 in the morning round, then just held off Miller by one stroke with an afternoon 72. He finished with a 275 total, nine-under-par.

The key was a clutch, 15-foot, parsaving, downhill putt on the 71st hole. "That was the putt that won the tournament," said Jenkins,

It sent him to the last hole with a previously a non-winner in three bogey meaningless.

"I'm glad it's over," sighed Jenkins, who had to resort to some desperate scrambling down the stretch when Miller was threatening. Jenkins converted a pair of threefoot, parsaving putts on the 14th and 15th holes, then clinched it down with the clutch effort on the 17th.

Miller parred the final four holes, finishing with a pair of 68s and second at 276.

He jumped to seventh on the Ryder Cup point list-a team of 12 will be named-and regained the season's money-winning lead from absent Jack Nicklaus. Miller, who collected $17,100 from the total purse of $150,000, now has $179,630 for the year, Nicklaus $173,239. Wynn, playing about 11/2 hours in two-stroke lead going to the 17th hole, once an easy par five but now a tough par four. "I choked," he said.

He put his drive in a fairway bunker, hit the lip coming out. ricocheted off a tree with his next and finally hit his fourth in another sand trap. He came out poorly and was in the rough in five. He chipped to two feet-and missed the putt.

ahe had to chip in to save par on the final hole. When the gallery burst into applause, he responded with a hand clutched to his throat.

Still he won $10,650, pushing his year's winnings to $38,205, a figure that now puts him among the exempt players for next season.

Jenkins won $30,000 and also secured an exemption.

"It's a great feeling knowing you're not going to be facing that Monday qualifying," he said. "Now I front of Jenkins and Miller, had a can plan my life a little."

Red Sox outlast Tigers

By The Associated Press

Rick Burleson's sacrifice fly in the 12th inning scored Juan Beniquez with a tie-breaking run and the Boston Red Sox scored three more. two on Rico Petrocelli's double, to beat the Detroit Tigers 6-2 Monday

Beniquez tripled into the right field corner leading off the 12th against reliever Tom Walker, 2-4, and Burleson followed with his fly ball to deep center field.

Boston then loaded the bases when Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Rice singled and Fred Lynn was hit by a pitch. Bob Reynolds replaced Walker and Petrocelli greeted him with his double to left. The Red Sox added an insurance run when Rick Miller squeeze-bunted Lynn home.

Boston had taken a brief 2-1 lead in the top of the 10th on a homer by Rice but the Tigers tied it in the bottom of the 10th on Tom Veryzer's

The victory kept the first-place Red Sox one game ahead of the New

Clarke gets MVP honor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Bobby Clarke, team captain of the Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers, is this year's National Hockey League Most Valuable Player. He won the same award last season.

Clarke left for Montreal today where the awards were scheduled to be announced at noon during an NHL luncheon.

He will receive the David Hart Memorial Trophy on Wednesday.

'What can I say," Clarke said Monday. "It's a real honor and a great way to cap the season after winning the Stanley Cup. No trophy can mean as much as that.

Clarke also was selected by the Professional Hockey Writers Association as first team center on the NHL All-Star team. He received 179 votes in the balloting, compared with 155 for Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins who had won the honor for the last six years. Flyer goalie Bernie Parent, voted MVP in the Stanley Cup playoffs, also was selected to the All-Star team, for the second year in a row.

Storm stops Angels, K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP) - The American League baseball game between the California Angels and Kansas City Royals was postponed Monday night because of rain.

No date was set for making up the game, first in a three-game series between the clubs.

BATTING — Joe Morgan, Reds. had a single, a double and a homer in four at-bats, driving in four runs to lead Cincinnati to its 9-2 rout of the Atianta Braves. — Don Sutton, Dodgers, scattered eight Houston hits and struck out six Astros without giving up a walk en route to becoming the National League's first 11-game winner in Los Angeles' 4-2 victory.

In the rest of the AL, the Yanks beat Milwaukee 10-7, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 8-3 and Minnesota overhauled Oakland 7-6. In the National League, Los Angeles beat Houston 4-2, Chicago outlasted Philadelphia 9-7, Pittsburgh routed St. Louis 10-4, San Diego whipped League East.

San Francisco 7-1, and Cincinnati trounced Atlanta 9-2. The Yanks blew an early five-run lead, then rallied with five more runs in the sixth inning on Ron Blomberg's double and Graig Nettles' homer to beat the Brewers. Brooks Robinson and Lee May hit three-run homers and Jim Palmer became the American League's first 11-game winner in Baltimore's victory over the Indians.

Steve Braun's homer triggered a three-run ninth inning and Larry Hi-

York Yankees in the American sle's tie-breaking single capped it to catapult the Twins past Oakland.

Don Sutton became the National League's first 11-game winner as the Dodgers rode Steve Garvey's tworun homer in the seventh inning to their victory over Houston.

Tim Hosley hit a leadoff homer in the eighth inning and five straight singles for three more runs lifted the Cubs over Philadephia. Willie Stargell, Rennie Stennett and Al Oliver homered for Pittsburgh to back Bruce Kison's six-hit pitching and beat the Cardinals. Pitcher Rich Folkers' two-run single highlighted a six-run sixth inning that gave the Padres their triumph over San Francisco. Joe Morgan drove in four runs with a single, double and home run and Don Gullett recorded his fifth straight victory in Cincinnati's romp over the Braves.

AAU cancels Russian meet

The 16-year tradition of an annual United States-Russian track meet has been broken.

'This is a development," Ollan Cassell, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union said Monday in announcing "with great regret" that the U.S.-USSR track meet scheduled for Kiev, Russia July 4-5 had been canceled.

'Numerous contract violations by the USSR All-Sports Committee left us with no alternative," said. Among them was the denial of U.S. television rights to the meet.

Cassell said the Soviets had earlier signed a contract granting the AAU the television rights in his country for the customary exhibition meet, but they have now decided to renege on that agreement.

Without the revenue that would accrue to us from television," he explained, "we are unable to finance the trip.

A team of approximately 66 men and women would have been sent to Kiev. Cassell said he had made 'repeated efforts' to urge the Soviets to abide by what he said were the terms of the contract, but they had refused.

'The track and field program, which began in 1958, has been a rewarding onebeneficial to the athletes of both countries and to relationships between the nations as well," said Cassell. "It is with great regret and sadness that we are compelled to suspend the series.

Cassell, who competed for the U.S. when the meet was last held in Kiev in 1965, said a triangular meet with Poland and Czechoslovakia scheduled for Prague on July 7-8 was also jeopardized by the cancellation.

The AAU's executive director announced. however, the United States would send the miniteam to compete in other international meets in England, France and Finland. Following these events, the team would return home to join the full U.S. team for a meet against West Germany and Pan Africa at Durham, N.C., on July 18-

Cassell said he was hopeful this year's cancellation would not impair future relationships with the Soviets.

NEW YORK (AP) - The aggressive Denver Nuggets of the American Basketball Association not only are making strong overtures in an effort to sign No. 1 draft choice Marvin Webster, but they also reportedly are angling for the rights to the Virginia Squires' top pick, David Thompson.

Should they succeed in signing both, it would be a remarkable coup.

Webster, the 7-foot 'Human Eraser' Morgan State, was The Associated Press' College Division Player of the Year each of the last two Thompson, the 6-5 master of the "Alley Oop" play from North Carolina State, was the major college Player of the Year each of the last two years.

And should the Nuggets corral both Webster and Thompson, the two most coveted players in collegiate basketball during the 1974-75 season, they would leave the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association awfully embarrassed.

Both Webster and Thompson were drafted by the financially ailing Hawks on the first round of the recent NBA draft.

In fact, the Nuggets could even add further embarrassment to the Hawks by signing 6-8 high school star Bill Willoughby of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, N.J. Both clubs picked Willoughby on the second round of their respective drafts.

There has been a report that Webster already has reached agreement with the Nuggets, but he denied it Monday shortly after the ABA draft, which was conducted by a conference call at league headquarters in New York.

In Baltimore, Webster said, "I'll probably decide sometime soon." he said. 'maybe within a week.

Asked about the report that Webster already was signed, Nuggets General Manager Carl Scheer said, 'Print anything you want, but remember my promise that we would sign whomever we picked."

While the Nuggets admittedly have been bargaining furiously for Webster, Atlanta apparently has not.

Webster's agent, Norm Blass, was quoted as saying that Atlanta owner John Wilcox has not made any offer while Hawks' Coach Cotton Fitz-

But my situation is that Denver has made an offer and my problem with Mr. Wilcox is that he must think he's in a labor relations thing and has a lot of time to just sit out. He doesn't.

The Hawks apparently also have not pursued Thompson vigorously.

Thompson's lawyer, Larry Fleisher, said he had negotiated with Denver last weekend and that he had engaged in only one conversation with Wilcox.

For Denver to get the rights to Thompson, they would have to work out a deal with Virginia. Scheer confirmed that discussions regarding the matter have been held with the Squires.

As for Willoughby, he

"He (Willoughby) has unbelievable talent," said Denver Coach Larry Brown. "He will be a great one in the future.

However, Richard Cohn, Gullett an attorney for the new WFL's Birmingham team said Monday that even if the latest incarnation of the WFL survives for 12 years, he doubted that it would earn enough to fully repay the debts unless a major television contract was signed.

Cohn also said that the old WFL has no legal obligation, even under its bankruptcy petition, to pay its arrears and felt it is likely that many of its pastdue bills will never be paid. The scope of those debts

Other debts include $155,000 to lineman Ron East, $94,000 to running back Jim Nance, $92,000 to quarterback Randy Johnson and $87,000 to receiver John Isenbarger.

injured

CINCINNATI (AP) -Cincinnati pitching ace Don Gullett has been placed on the 21-day disabled list, a spokesman for the National League club announced today.

The hard-throwing lefthander suffered a small fracture of his left thumb Monday night en route to his fifth victory in a row for a 9-3 record for the NL West Division baseball leaders.

Dr. George Ballou, the Reds' team physician, said Gullett's thumb, wrist and forearm would remain in a cast at least four weeks.

Gullett, 24, was struck by a line drive hit by Atlanta shortstop Larvell Blanks with one out in the ninth in-

Pedro Borbon came on to help the Reds preserve the victory, Gullett's fifth in a row. The 24-year-old lefthander was off to the best start of his career with a 9-3 record.

Lee Stanton earns honor

NEW YORK (AP) -Slugging outfielder Lee Stanton of the California Angels was a unanimous choice as the American League's Player of the Week, it was announced Monday.

Stanton had 16 hits in 38 times at bat for a .421 average last week. His hits are repaid, both parties included the first two grand slam home runs of his major league career. He also drove in 13 runs.

European baseball will Championship Tournament in Barcelona, Spain, July 25-August 3. Following the European Tournament Arce will fly the Italians to Connecticut for six days of workouts before the beginning of the Intercontinental Cup Tournament in Montreal and Moncton, Participating in the tourney will be the United States, Japan, South Korea, Nicaragua, Colombia, Puerto Rico, Cuba. Italy, and Canada. Arce expects the event to be well attended by professional baseball scouts.

"The quality of baseball in the Orient and Europe has improved so rapidly that professional baseball can't afford to dismiss them." Arce said. "I have seen several outstanding prospects in Italy and I am sure we shall be seeing a number from Italy, Taiwan and Japan, joining professional American teams.'

In addition to playing a tough schedule the California collegians will also conduct clinics for the Italian Baseball Federation. The Californians will instruct both youngsters and adult coaches of club teams.

Beltran's single sparks win

single in the fifth inning carried the San Dimas Thorobred A team to a 10-7 victory over the Monrovia B squad Monday afternoon at San Dimas High.

But Beltran's pitching was every bit as important as his hitting Monday as he checked the visitors on one hit in 3 1/3 innings of relief. He came on to get the final out in the top of the fourth after Monrovia had staged a five-run uprising against starting pitcher Robert Alexander to take a 7-5 lead.

San Dimas tied the score in the bottom of the inning when Rick Ortega drove in a run with a triple and scored on a Bob Dominick single.

The home team set the stage for Beltran's gamewinning hit in the bottom of the fifth with a walk to Robert Alexander and singles by Dave Alexander and Carl Davis. Steve Hines of San

Dimas smacked a two-run homer in the third inning as the home squad scored three times to break a 2-2

Ralph Beltran's two-run tie. Hines finished the game with three hits in four tries and three RBIs. San Dimas (6-3) will

WOMAN TORTURED IN SMALL CAR

Keeping up with fast moving traffic is sheer torture for her in a small car. Yes, ompacts and minis can suffer extra ingine strain to accelerate speed. This can cause excessive engine heat, wear and noise. That's why small cars should have extra protection. Now they can get it thanks to WYNN'S & OIL TREATMENT FOR SMALL CARS. It's formulated to help maintain performance, compression and viscosity at high temperatures while it ights power-stealing contaminants. So for that extra protection get WYNN'S OIL TREATMENT FOR SMALL CARS today.

model bearing in the land mountains in books, we may wonder how the height of a mountain is actually measured. Most of our figures for mountain heights were obtained with an altimeter.

This is a kind of barometer that uses air pressure to measure altitude, or height above sea level. Altimeters give quick and easy readings For more accurate readings, surveyors use a special instrument called a transit, and mathematics. By sighting a mountain peak through his transit, the surveyor finds the angle between an imaginary level line and the line of sight to

When we read of high the mountain peak. By measuring the angles be can tell us how high the mountain is without actually climbing it. Even with this method it is not easy to measure exactly how tall a mountain really is.

As far as anyone knows. the very highest mountain on land is Mt. Everest in the Himalayas. It is 29,028 feet above seal level - over 5 miles high.

Here's wonderful news! A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
